Presented by RAD

Las Vegas, NV — Gary Williams picked up $30,000 on Biondo Racing Products Wednesday at the Moser Engineering Spring Fling Million presented by RAD Torque Systems at the Strip at Las Vegas Motor Speedway.

The all-door car final round was decided by the red light of Jayden Lawler from Jacksonville, North Carolina in the Cobalt against Gary Williams from Bradenton, Florida in the '02 Sonoma "Ole Red." It was the second $30K Fling big check for Williams in addition to multiple $15K and shootout wins.

Jayden Lawler had a .009 advantage on the tree over the lone dragster of Gabe Torres in the semifinals, getting to the stripe first by .006 to advance. Gary Williams took a solo trip down the track.

The six remaining racers on the ladder included Jayden Lawler, Scott Taylor, Gabe Torres, Gabriel Hernandez Sr., Colby Fuller, and Gary Williams. Lawler was .013 and .01 above for the win over Taylor, while Williams was .001 and the lesser of the double breakout against the .008 of Fuller. In the last pair, Hernandez turned it just .005 red to Torres.

Scott Taylor from Columbia Falls, Montana was the winner of the Laris Motorsports Insurance Pro Field over Steven Mang from Westminster, Colorado. He picked up a $1,000 bonus and combined into the Super Pro field at the ladder round.

Cascade Truck Body and Trailer Sales Thursday will see eliminations of the second $30,000 purse of the week and the new Mr Cool DIY Direct Second Shot Shootout which will take the top 16 best losing packages of the re-entry round to race free for $3,000.
